What is Davis Autism Approach?

Created by Ron Davis as a roadmap for autistic individuals, the Davis Autism Approach is a holistic, respectful, and effective pathway to clarity and understanding that will enable clients to unlock inherent gifts and feel empowered to participate fully in the life that they choose.

As clients journey through the program, they engage with, reflect on, and master a series of essential life concepts that underpin and explain the mechanics of life. Learning occurs in a structured yet natural way as they model each concept in clay and then experience it in their environment. The whole program is geared towards fostering understanding, empowerment, and personal growth. Simply put – it is transformational.

Davis Autism Approach empowers autistic individuals 8 years and over through the Davis Autism Approach Program, and younger and/or non-speaking autistic individuals through the Davis Stepping Stones 1 & 2 Programs.

"This training has changed my life, as well as those of all of my glorious clients who I have had the honor of working with. The simplicity and depth of the program is transformative for autistic, neurodivergent, and neurotypical individuals alike. Having the Davis Autism Approach and Concepts for Life programs as a suite of program offerings, in addition to the Dyslexia, Math and Attention programs, ensures that almost anyone who walks through my door is able to be helped by Davis."

Melanie Curry, Davis Autism Approach and Concepts for Life Trainer

What is Davis Concepts for Life?

The Davis Concepts for Life program follows the same structure and content as the Davis Autism Approach, but is designed to enhance executive functioning, emotional intelligence, focusing stamina, improved wellbeing and a general grasp of the world for individuals who may or may not have a neurodivergent "label" but are facing roadblocks in their lives that have not been removed through traditional therapy approaches.

Davis Concepts for Life empowers individuals 8 years and over through the Davis Concepts for Life Program, and younger individuals through the Davis Concepts for Life – Early Years Program.

Did you know?

The Davis Stepping Stones and Davis Concepts for Life – Early Years Programs are the only Davis programs providing proven routes to deliver the concepts from "self" to order/disorder to children under 8.

"The Davis Autism Approach works. We see it time and time again. Autism is here to stay. But the difficulties and obstacles that autistic individuals experience can become things of the past. Thanks to its creator, Ron Davis, we have a revolutionary solution. We need your help to share it with the world."

Trainee Practicum Program Pricing Guidelines

We strongly encourage trainees to charge for their Practicum Programs. When an investment is made in a Davis program, it increases its perceived value and enhances both client and support person engagement.

In addition, the income you receive from these programs may well be able to cover your training costs.

The suggested program prices for a Practicum Program are approximately 66% of an average program fee charged by a licensed facilitator in your region.

In the United States, this equates to approximately USD$66-$100 per hour.

We are aware that trainees may need to adjust their fees depending on their client's location. We encourage each trainee to work with their supervisor to determine an appropriate program fee.
